proven to be effective in school districts across the US, and it serves as a road map so that educators may design a progression of units of study that keep standards, instruction, and assessment tightly focused and connected.

"A rigorous curriculum must keep students at the center of its design. Although such a curriculum is based on a preset list of necessary components, in no way does this imply that rigor should be equated to rigidity. A rigorous curriculum must remain flexible, adaptable to the diverse and continuously changing learning needs of all the students it serves.
